I see it was released on the 15th of Oct and I just downloaded the last edition from Autodesk. The issue I am having is that it does not connect to internet, I am not a tech guy but is there anything I am missing? The tablet sends the location with no problem and shows up in my devices when I go to "my the..." but I can't connect and I can't search even though I have the web connection turned on. Any help would be greatly appreciated. By Demontay on Sat. Oct 11, 2018 at 11:51AM EDT... I have a 2 year old and am working on an remodel project. I need to know if I can install the software on my 2 year old's laptop or not. The drive is only 19 gig's now. I know Autodesk offers apps for smart phones and tablets, but how about laptops? By jdren89 on Wed. Aug 02, 2018 at 11:36AM EDT... Thank you for this tool. I've been looking for a way to simulate the effect of CAT 5 or CAT 6 cabling... so that I can see how my design effect the building's AC. By lfnk on Thu. Aug 16, 2018 at 04:27AM EDT... I have been using Autodesk BIM 360 Design 2011 with my new Dell XPS 13, but I could not find a way to make sure my laptop is connected to the internet on my home network (is it?). I found out that I have to enable the connection on the BIM 360 Design application, but the problem with me is that I have to do it on every computer that I use with that application. Thanks in advance. By eugene1 on Wed. Aug 15, 2018 at 02:01AM EDT... I have this workstation with 4 video-cards on it running XP SP3. In short: do I have to install the latest drivers on the video-cards? BINARY FILE BINARY FILE BINARY FILE BINARY FILE BINARY FILE BINARY FILE BINARY FILE By luanfen on Thu. Aug 02, f988f36e3a
