I have a function that uses pretty date math to choose the beginning date. That part works fine. However, I need to know how to traverse through the daily date array and keep choosing the next one. When I say "next one", I mean the array date from one day after the beginning date. Here is an example of my code: var today = moment(); var lastEntry = moment(); var lastDate = day.diff(lastEntry, 'days'); var entriesPerDay = 10; var daysDiff = Math.floor(lastDate/daysDiff); var days = []; for (var i = 0; i < entriesPerDay; i++) { var startDate = day.startOf("day"); var endDate = day.add(lastDate, 'days').startOf("day"); var date = day.subtract(startDate, "days").add(
